HACCP

FOR FOOD INDUSTRY SERVICE PROVIDERS

Course Overview

Food industry suppliers are expected to conform to, and be aware of, HACCP and related food-safety standards. This course explains the basic requirements of HACCP and gives service providers an understanding of its basic principles in order to comply with clients' food-safety requirements.

Course Objectives

Delegates will gain a clear understanding of HACCP and customer expectations regarding the support of HACCP endeavours. At the end of the course participants will be able to:

- List the basic principles of HACCP
- Understand the role they play in implementing HACCP
- Identify areas where complementary support could be provided to clients
- Practically implement basic principles.
